   - Maggie Seifert expressed the following three points for consideration:
     i. There needs to be additional Yoga classes offered by the City for the aging population of Davis, as the current classes are consistently full and are only offered early in the morning. Additionally, the programs are too expensive and the cost should be reduced or provided free of charge for seniors on fixed incomes.
     ii. The City needs to develop Activity Centers for teens that they can use to socialize, only sports programs are currently offered.
     iii. There is a need for increased upkeep of tree debris (Pine/Redwood Tree needles) along the Green Meadows Greenbelt, a neighbor has expressed concerns about too many needles collecting in her gutters.
   - Alan Hirsch expressed concerns over Central Park, specifically the proposed Natalie Corona Splash Pad Memorial that Hirsch states is too large for the area. Additionally, there is a need to plant additional trees for increased shade and the Farmers Market needs extended business hours.
