About the Davis Amtrak Access and Connections Study

The City of Davis is studying for the future of the Amtrak Station, commonly known as the “Davis Depot.”

The study seeks to identify long term opportunities to increase ridership, improve access for different types of travel, and enhance station safety. In addition, the study will examine the potential benefits of implementing such changes including relieving congestion, reducing car travel, and stimulating economic activity downtown.

Visit the project website at www.CityofDavis.org/DepotStudy

Questions? Email ghashimoto@cityofdavis.org or call 530-747-5809